Minden offers cold reception to St. Jo's PR effort

by Jerry Grozelle

The hospital board held out an olive branch to Minden, but few here were willing to forgive and forget.

In an effort to improve communications in Haliburton County, St. Joseph's Hospital Board held two information sessions last week. The board was well received in Haliburton on Monday, but they weren't so lucky when they brought the show to Minden three days later.

Reaction to the panel of Thursday's meeting at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home was a 180 degree reversal of what the same panel experienced in Haliburton two days before.

In Haliburton, discussions regarding the future of the hospitals in Minden and Haliburton were positive. The panel faced a different scenario -- one of mistrust and anger -- in Minden.

The Haliburton meeting preceded a Ministry of Health announcement of a $10.6-million initiative for the two hospitals, of which, $4.1-million would have to be raised by the county residents. That announcement stated, among other things, that the acute care services would have to be consolidated. Some have interpreted that to mean the Minden hospital would have to close.

Thursday's audience, which was mostly from the Minden area, viewed the ministry's press release as a threat to

Ministry won't support two hospitals

by Russ Duhaime

At least one of Haliburton County's hospitals must be closed as part of a $10.6 million scheme to enhance health care provisions here.

The Ministry of Health made this announcement at a meeting of the Planning and Development Committee Tuesday morning. And before the day was done, some committee members were leaping to the conclusion that Minden's should be the target for closure.

This assumption, however, is premature, says committee chairman Jack Brezina. He says there are several options that will have to be considered by a new health care management board which will soon be formed.

Committee member Chris Hodgson agrees. He says the committee's initial recommendation to the ministry hinged on equal access to health care services in both communities. He said this was the cornerstone of the committee's decision back in April.

The alterations in the ministry package, however, could create a significant imbalance in the services available in Minden and Haliburton. In light of this, Hodgson says the issue must be re-examined in an effort to restore balance to the formula.

The announcement delivered by ministry representative David Thomas is for a complex new package, which is backed by a ministry funding commitment of 6.5 million. Thomas said this is "the most progressive set of announcements out of the Ministry of Health so far." He said it will be a model for similar communities in Ontario. The announcement includes the following elements:

*Approval for the upgrading of Haliburton Hospital with the addition of 30 long-term-care beds.

*Approval for the upgrading of Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home in Minden.

*The immediate creation of a new management board to govern acute care services in the county. This board will take the governance function out of the hands of the St. Joseph's Hospital Board in Peterborough. Eventually, this board will oversee the county's entire health care.

*Consolidation of inpatient acute care services in the county. Thomas said the ministry wants 19 inpatient beds on one site. "We can't validate the need for two sites," he said.

Two Thumbs Up

It was a day of discoveries December 5 as a crowd of children watched the birth of a clown. Morgan's Adventure was the name of the one-man show, sponsored by the Haliburton County Children's Concert Series. Morgan thrilled the young audience with his journey into the land of the living, the unwrapping of birthday presents and the ultimate discovery that the greatest gift is the friendship of others. This was the second show in what is proving to be another spectacular series.

St. Jo's will not oppose transfer of county hospitals the survival of the Minden hospital.

The panel included: Mel Johnson, Chairman of the Board of St. Joseph's Hospital and Health Centre (which administers all three of the Peterborough, Haliburton and Minden hospitals); Frank Lussing, CEO of St. Joseph's Hospital; Stuart Baker, a Haliburton County representative on the Board of Directors; Denise Northey, acting Director of the Minden Hospital; Marlene Taylor, Director of the Haliburton Hospital and recently appointed Co-Director of both Minden and Haliburton hospitals; and Rheta Jones, board trustee from Minden, who also acted as master of ceremonies for the evening's discussion.

Mel Johnson opened the meeting by explaining that the purpose was the interchange of ideas and to "make sure that we're all on the same side."

"This is not us against you," he stated.

Some members of the audience seemed to take the opposite stance. During some of Lussing's explanations, he was interrupted and at other times there were rumblings from the crowd that made it clear they weren't convinced of the truthfulness of his statements.

It was obvious that most of the people present didn't think the Minden Hospital was getting a fair shake.

Several arguments were presented in favour of keeping the Minden Hospital in its present location, with its current level of services.

The fact that it is the only hospital north of Lindsay on the busy, and often dangerous, Highway 35 corridor was mentioned more than once.

Sonya Holliday-Rhodes said that the cost to provide additional ambulance services to transfer patients first to Minden for evaluation and then to Haliburton for further assessment and extended care, if necessary, would offset much of the savings of consolidating the in-patient care facilities in one location.

The community has been extremely generous through the donation of equipment, an estimated $150,000 worth, even though the unemployment rate in the county is around 30 per cent and the average income of the county's populace is lower than the provincial average.

"I don't think people are aware of how much equipment the community has donated to the Minden Hospital," said Dr. Stephen Dawson, who listed several major pieces. "You won't find any community that has contributed more than Minden."

Dr. Dawson went on to say that although this equipment was purchased solely by local service clubs with the support of the local people, the financial statement shows depreciation of $40,000 against that equipment.

"That's what you get for your efforts," he told the audience.

Much of the discussion that took place Thursday was immaterial since St. Joseph's will soon relinquish control of the two Haliburton County hospitals to a local Board of Directors. It will continue to assist, but not in the capacity that it has in the past.

Al Mayo asked if St. Joseph's offer to sell the Minden hospital to the community was still valid. He was told that St. Joseph's wouldn't be able to sell the Minden Hospital without approval from the Ministry of Health but if the Ministry agreed, the Hospital Board wouldn't stand in the way.

"That may happen sooner than later," Lussing intimated.

The administration of the two local hospitals is expected to be turned over to a local Board of Directors in the near future. That board will then be responsible for the operation of both facilities, the allocation of funding between the two and the services that each will provide.

CEO under pressure, says chairman

Responding to a question from Dr. Antony Holliday-Rhodes regarding what the community could do to keep the beds in Minden and provide the services the hospital is currently providing, Lussing said that one option would be to serve on a committee that will make the decisions. He invited anyone to submit a resume stating their qualifications for such a committee.

Local resident Pauline Ploord questioned: "Am I interpreting you correctly in that you are inviting us to participate in yet another committee, which allows us limited choice in what we can have in terms of hospital care in Minden and then we have to raise $4.1-million?"

Johnson responded by telling the largely unsympathetic audience the tremendous responsibility Lussing is under, both from the hospital's board of directors and the Ministry of Health to operate all three facilities within the budgetary guidelines.

"All we're trying to do is involve a greater breadth of the communities here so that you feel more confident that you are getting the kinds of decisions that you need in this area," Johnson said.

He admitted that $4.1-million divided into the number of residents in the community is an "astounding" number.

"We're not allowed, as governments seem to be these days, to run into the red. What we are given are X number of dollars . . . our mandate that we have given to him (Lussing) is that he has to live within the dollars that he has been allotted. We are trying to run this system through that one individual and its through discussions like this that we try to get what the overall perspective is," Johnson added.

"In spite of all the anxiety, in spite of all the nervousness and in spite of all the rhetoric, about the imminent closure of the hospitals, it hasn't happened," Lussing told the audience. "As a matter of fact, the St. Joseph's Hospital Board has to date absorbed about a half a million dollar shortfall on behalf of Haliburton and Minden hospitals. We have no intention of recouping those funds. That's money that's gone. There's no point in crying over spilled milk. The responsibility is, though, to continue to move towards a situation where our revenues are in line with our operations."

"We have absolutely, the best interest of the community at heart because we haven't taken services away," Lussing said, to a chorus of "yet" by several members of the audience.

When the meeting was over, Lussing was asked if he thought there would be a hospital in Minden five or ten years into the future.

"Yes," he said. "It won't be the same as it is now, but I can't say in what way it will change."

Stuart Baker received the most applause of the evening after an emotional plea for co-operation and understanding.

Frank Lussing, CEO

"I didn't come prepared to say much tonight. I came prepared to listen. I have enjoyed very much representing Haliburton County, not just one little spot in the County, on the Board at St. Joseph's since June. I have been to a number of meetings, both of the board and of the committees and I have found these to be honourable people. They have every desire to see hospital services and health services in Haliburton County at the highest level that they possibly can. And they do have far more expertise than we have among us, and I'm one of you. We cannot run health services, hospital services, in Haliburton County by ourselves. We do not have the expertise to do it yet. But we can acquire it. We need a partner and that partner is St. Joseph's Hospital to see us through a transition period."

"I can understand you should be frustrated and you should be upset in the short run. But, in the long term, you should be thankful."

"Why shouldn't we look at $6.8-million as a great Christmas gift that is long-term coming? Ask yourself what would it do for us? One thing it would do for us is it would improve health care services within Haliburton County, regardless of where they're located. The second thing is, it will provide some immediate employment in a county that has very high unemployment rates. And when the facilities are up we'll have permanent jobs for more people in our community."

He went on to say that he has been celebrating the government's funding announcement. He said that there is more than one way to acquire $4-million.

"We shouldn't think it all has to be done through fund-raising, which would probably be an impossible task. Let's explore some ideas. I'm looking at the crowd and I'm seeing people I've seen before. And I know that there are problem solvers here. You've done an excellent job of identifying the problems. Now, all we have to do is put our collective heads together and solve those problems."

He said he would volunteer to step down from the St. Joseph's Board if anyone could convince him that there is anyone on that board, or in the employ of the board who is doing anything that would be counterproductive to Haliburton County.

County forced to grapple with divisive issue

In order to access the ministry funds, this county must agree to the consolidation of the two county hospitals. It must also raise more than $3 million.

The demand for consolidation is a major hitch in an otherwise positive announcement. The planning and development committee was widely criticized for its decision to place the new long-term-care facility in Haliburton. Now it must grapple with the new divisive issue of what to do with the county's two acute care facilities.

Another major hitch in the plan is the local fundraising requirement to make this plan fly. In order to access the ministry funds, more than $3 million will have to be raised locally — a feat that some fear is impossible.

Thomas said his ministry has agreed to fund the entire package that was presented by the committee last April. When he unveiled the terms of the plan, however, it was clear that the ministry had made fundamental changes to the package.

The committee's package called for the construction of a new long-term-care

Some fear local fundraising target is far too ambitious facility adjacent to an upgraded Haliburton Hospital. It also called for improvements to Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home and the construction of a new Minden Hospital on the Hyland Crest site.

The ministry agreed to all elements of this package except for the construction of a new Minden Hospital. By pulling the plug on one of the hospitals, the ministry has tipped the scales.

The key difference between the ministry package and the committee's package is in the definition of community.

The committee recognizes the existence of two communities — Haliburton and Minden — and its package is designed to appease both.

The ministry, on the other hand, is recognizing the county as a single community. "Haliburton County is first and foremost a community," Thomas said. "It's not just Minden and it's not just Haliburton."

Considering that the long-term-care element of this package is going to Haliburton, Minden Councillor Jerry Rome asked if this also means the hospital must be in Haliburton. Thomas nodded agreement, but said this decision will be up to the new board.

Regardless of the imminent battle over the location of the hospital, some feel the plan is unworkable because of the demand for local funds.

Several years ago a Haliburton-based group initiated a fundraising project for a proposed long-term-care addition to the Haliburton Hospital. That group raised $400,000, which was considered to be a tremendous success. The fundraising goal for this new project is almost 10 times that of the ill-fated hospital expansion.

The local share of this project is almost $4.1 million. Previous fund-raising efforts have accumulated just over $600,000, leaving the county to raise another $3.5 million.

"When times were good, the community raised $600,000," said committee member Michael Collins. He said the community is too skeptical to throw enough support behind this project.

"It's going to be very difficult to do that knowing the economic climate," said committee member Bern Berry. "I personally see this as another delay."

Committee member Ruby Way, however, praised the announcement. "I'm very excited about this," she said. "People in this area don't care where they go, provided they have the service."

Way went on to suggest that Haliburton is the logical location for the lone hospital. She said Minden lacks the "cohesive medical team" that will be needed to staff a hospital. She noted that many Minden area residents are already travelling to Haliburton to for their medical needs.

She said it is "childish to be warring against Haliburton and Minden." She urged the committee to look at the positive side of this announcement. "The ball's in our court, let's run with it."

Candles in the wind

A mourner remembers with a red rose.

by Andy Holloway

Ten women and one man withstood brisk winds and cold at a memorial ceremony on Highland Street in Haliburton last Monday to remember 14 women who were murdered in Montreal on December 6, 1989.

Each of the 11 adults held red roses and candles as they remembered the 14 women, and others who have died as a result of violence, including the seven women who have been killed in Haliburton.

Caroline Bishop led the short service in Haliburton while similar ceremonies were taking place across Canada. As each name was read aloud a person would gently place a red rose in a wooden box with the words "First mourn, then work for change" inscribed on it.

A short poem was read and a song was then sung. The box remained outside Cordell's Carpet for the rest of the day.

A fund-raising campaign is currently underway in the county to raise money for an emergency shelter for abused women and their children. The campaign is being organized by SIRCH and a site on which to put the home is still being sought.

Youth charged in ASES vandalism

by Andy Holloway

A young offender has been charged in connection with the vandalism that occurred at Archie Stouffer Elementary School early last week.

Minden OPP say a young local boy was apprehended last Tuesday as a result of the investigation into the vandalism which is believed to have occurred during the early evening of December 5.

The boy's name can not be released because the Young Offenders Act prohibits it.

The boy is the only one implicated in the crime so far, but the investigation is continuing. Police say the damage was substantial and was not confined to any one part of the school.

The night watchman at the school discovered the damage at 10 p.m. on December 5.

In one room computer screens and keyboards were covered in liquid white-out and audio tapes were destroyed. Other pieces of furniture were also damaged.

Every fire extinguisher had been emptied and fire hoses in the primary class wing were turned on. Papers were also burned in the vice-principal's room.

The school has been undergoing extensive construction since last June and an examination of the school's key policy is still before the county school board.

Time for a change

In light of the major changes proposed for our local health care system, the time is ripe for a fresh new group to step in and carry the issue to a logical conclusion.

The Planning and Development Committee has laid the groundwork for Tuesday's surprising announcement by the Ministry of Health, but it's clear that this group is incapable of carrying the ball into the end-zone. The perception of partisanship within the committee cannot be overestimated. This perception will breed skepticism and stand as an obstacle in the path of the enormous task ahead.

The committee is to be congratulated for its work in bringing us to the verge of grasping the tremendous potential buried within the ministry's announcement. The meetings, research, and even the controversy, have produced a significant commitment for funding from the ministry — a commitment that will enhance and streamline the provision of health care services in this county.

The ministry is also giving us the opportunity to cut the bothersome ties we've had with St. Joseph's hospital in Peterborough. Once a local board is established, we will have the ability to decide our own fate; to devise a new plan for the future.

Ultimately, it must be this new board that defines our vision of a comprehensive and efficient health care system. It must then revisit past decisions and determine whether they work toward this goal.

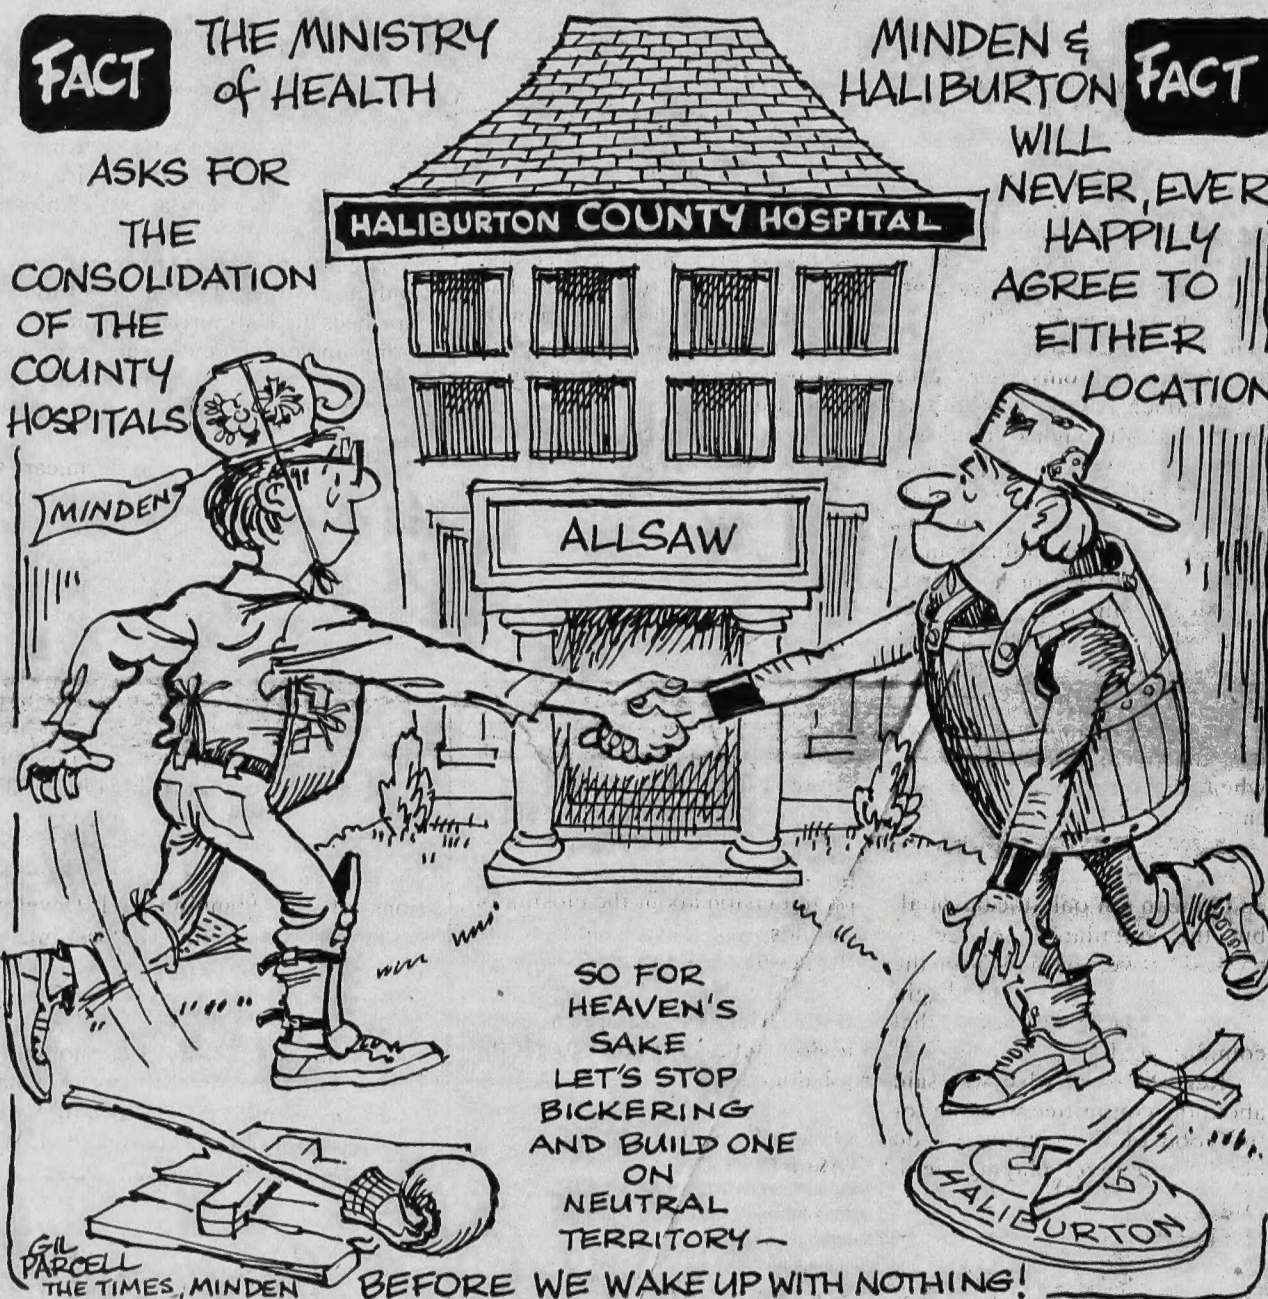

Any decisions made before Tuesday were based on the assumption that equal health care services would be available in Minden and Haliburton. Had committee members been aware of the ministry's goal of consolidating acute care beds on one site, those decisions may well have been different.

Surely, the committee would have realized the folly of situating the bulk of our health care facilities in either of the two communities. Yet, that's exactly what we're looking at if we proceed with the plans as presented Tuesday.

It's unfortunate that the ministry failed to provide this vital piece of information before sending the committee down this rocky road. Still, all is not lost. The new board will be well positioned to pick up the information gathered by the committee and develop a new strategic plan.

Once this is accomplished, the process of creating a new health care system can begin one step at a time.

R.D.

Official stepped over the line

Editor:

Last Tuesday I attended the Planning and Development Committee meeting as an observer. At that meeting were members of the Ministry of Health, Long Term Care and District Health Council. An employee of the Ministry of Health made a presentation to the committee which, from my memory, went something like this:

1) The package of recommendations made by the Planning and Development Committee has been approved.

2) County hospitals would be removed from St. Joseph's and come under local governance.

3) The Minden and Haliburton hospital beds must be consolidated.

4) Whichever community lost its hospital beds would maintain all other facilities in a clinic setting.

5) The 30 long term care beds are to be located in Haliburton Village.

6) The total package is estimated to cost $10.5 million with $6.5 million funded by the MOH. The remaining $4 million to be raised in this county.

7) A new committee is to be set up to decide where the new hospital is to be located. This committee is to report (make recommendations) to the District Health Council who in turn evaluate the information and forward a recommendation to the MOH.

All this sounds good except when you consider that the Executive Director of the District Health Council was interviewed by CHEX TV (aired last Wednesday) and he implied that the hospital beds and long term care beds are going to Haliburton Village which will create a 49 bed hospital. Is he giving direction to the yet to be named assembled committee?

In addition this new committee is to be set by April, 1994 with appropriate decisions made within one year of formation. Is a provincial election not due in about that time?

It is indeed unfortunate that a paid bureaucrat would put himself in a position where he appears to be stepping over the bounds of propriety.

Mindenites must get the job done

Editor:

After attending the meeting last Thursday concerning health care in this county I felt it necessary to respond to the events that took place.

I am not certain how the people who were there felt about the outcome of the meeting, but if they were like me they were no more knowledgeable afterwards than they were before.

About the only one who made much sense was Stuart Baker and although I could not agree with everything he said, some points were very valid. Changes are coming in the health care system in this county whether we like it or not. First, we must begin cooperating with each other and actually see the process beginning and this must be done prior to the next election or whatever commitments made will disappear just as they did when the present government came into power.

If we want to retain what we have here in our own community and I mean not only the hospital, but the ambulance service as well, then we, the people of the Minden area, have to begin working together toward that common goal.

Regardless of what was said about the committee working for the good of the county, we do not have a level playing field.

When it comes to voting on where a facility will go, people will vote for their own community - it is human nature. To be truly fair, the committee should have representation from each community or town involved. Above everything else there must be trust in the organization by the people as proven at the meeting, that trust is not there now. The lack of trust is not in the committee as much as it is in one person, that person being, unfortunately, Frank Lussing.

After listening to him last night I could not put any trust in what he had to say and as a result would not be able to sit on any committee chaired by him. I feel that many others have the same feeling. He was very condescending in his manner towards the people of our community and more than once an inference was made that the people of Minden were not capable of comprehending the big picture.

In everything that was said at the meeting, I did not hear anyone actually deny what was said on television about the closing of our hospital. If we want to retain the service we now have then we have to prove to Lussing and to Ruth Grier that we are prepared to do what ever it takes to get the job done.

How long does it take to make a ghost town?

Let's not wait and see

Editor,

On Dec. 7, the Ministry of Health announced funding in the amount of $6.5 million for health care in Haliburton County. What they didn't say in precise language was the Minden Hospital as we know it will be gone. But will it?

The four projects that were approved for funding are the addition of 30 long-term-care beds to Haliburton Hospital, consolidating inpatient acute care services, upgrading outpatient and urgent care services at both hospitals and upgrading Hyland Crest.

In layman's terms, long-term care is that provided at Hyland Crest and Extencare. Acute care is what we expect at a hospital, and urgent care is emergency room services. Therefore, when the ministry says consolidate acute care services it really means have one hospital.

We the residents of Minden have, in the most part, been awfully quiet about the health care studies going on for the past three years. I think we all thought that Minden would retain its hospital and whatever else was done with long-term care and the like was not as important. Hardly anyone stood up and said that the recommendations of the Planning and Development Committee were not in the best interests of the county. They were definitely in the best interests of Haliburton village. Look what they got... a 19-bed hospital and a 30-bed long-term-care facility. I am not anti-Haliburton but I am pro-Minden. We have an excellent hospital that several of my family members and friends have needed. We may have just lost that, or at least we can see it may be gone within two years. Is it too late? I think not.

What will the impact be on us? Did you know that 52 per cent of the county's population lives in the west half of the county? The impact will be enormous. First we can expect to lose some doctors. They will not want to have to drive to Haliburton to visit their inpatients nor will they want to be on call for medical emergencies when they have to drive 24 km to respond. With the hospital and doctors all going to Haliburton we can expect to lose some of our residents, especially the seniors. They too want to be close to a medical facility. Once the population shifts toward Haliburton, what is left? Will our business people survive? Will our school be needed? How long does it take to make a ghost town?

What we need is a concerted effort by all residents of this community. We can stop this nonsense. Service clubs, individuals, business associations, cottage associations and the like can all join together and fight. We need our hospital. Lobby your government. This is the same government which is preaching fiscal responsibility and still spending an extra $1.6 million to locate the new facilities in Haliburton rather than adding them onto Hyland Crest. Write to the Premier, the minister of Health, St. Joseph's Hospital and your Member of Parliament. Write to the leaders of the opposition parties. Don't sit any longer and hope for the best. Do something. Show your support.

Har matey, Yanks are after our water

*Water, water, everywhere
nor any drop to drink*

—Coleridge

Black'n White

by Arthur Black

Ever stop to think what a sacred, precious commodity your everyday, run of the mill drop of water is?

Not spectacular like a rainbow, or awesome like a lion's roar or a whitetail's leap or a newborn's yawn...but sacred nonetheless.

And about to become more sacred - our good Uncle Sam is looking our way and licking his lips.

Canada, of course, has umpteen gazillion tons of water. We've got Niagara Falls and Kakabeka and Nahanni and uncounted rivers full of pure, sweet water coursing over our rocks and bogs, pouring into bigger rivers and ponds and lakes and oceans.

You have to go to other countries to really appreciate what we take for granted, here in Canada - to Ingolstadt in Germany, say, where the famous Blue Danube flows. The Danube is not very blue after all - more like a turgid brown scar across the landscape. Or the Rio Grande between Mexico and Texas, a river so polluted you wouldn't want to put your foot in it, much less your tongue.

I think of those desecrated landmarks and remember a nameless river in the nameless depths of northern Quebec where I went canoeing not so long ago. And watched in wonder as my Cree guide scooped a ladle full of water from the lake we were crossing in a canoe - scooped it up and drank his fill, runnels of water streaking through the stubble on his chin.

Such a natural act, stooping and scooping a belly full of water from Mother Earth. So natural - and now so utterly life-threatening to most of us on this planet.

We've poisoned our own water. It isn't fit to drink until it's been chlorinated and fluoridated and filtered and distilled.

A 100 years ago you could have cupped your hands into just about any body of water in this country and drank your fill without a worry.

This is progress?

It's not just Canada either. As a matter of fact, we Canucks are better off than most. Experts reckon that by the year 2025, one of three people will be living in a country suffering from a shortage of fresh water.

Twenty countries are officially listed as "water-scarce" meaning that they can supply less than 1700 cubic metres per person, per year.

That's the break-even point, in case you're interested. Above 1700 cubic metres per year, you're probably showering and not worrying about all that soapy water going down the drain. Below 1700 cubic metres, you're carrying a canteen.

The experts predict that during the next three decades as many as another 50 countries will qualify as "water-scarce", which means they'll be looking at schemes to import water, no matter how hare-brained. Plans are afoot already to haul icebergs from Antarctica, and tow gigantic plastic bladders of lake water from water-rich nations to water-poor ones.

It's not a problem that we can afford to wax theoretic over. In China, more than 200 cities are already chronically short of water. Water tables under Beijing are dropping up to two metres every year. The city is already lining up supply sources more than 1,000 kilometres away.

And here in Canada? Well, we live next to a neighbor that believes it has the God-given right to raise avocados in the deserts of California.

No matter how much water it takes.

No matter whose water it takes.

Of course, thanks to Brian Mulroney and his bastard stepchild NAFTA, that's not a problem any more.

Provided you happen to be American.

Rail line future needs consultation

Editor:

It was with great interest I read your report in the November 30 issue of The Times regarding the 20 miles of abandoned railway tracks between Haliburton and Kinmount and its future use.

Over ten years ago the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, through the efforts of Past President Peter Overington, began to pursue the CNR and local government with respect to acquiring the rail line as a recreational trail. The HCSA worked hard for many years to bring local attention to the potential which the rail line offers Haliburton County - provided it was kept intact and not sold off piece meal.

A few short years ago a number of Haliburton politicians caught the vision of a recreational rail line preserved for all to share and proceeded to purchase this 20 mile right-of-way. These people must be saluted for this monumental act. Rarely do we see this kind of political vision today.

Since the county acquired the rail line, the HCSA has been the only organized recreational user group to step up and provide liability insurance for the county in the winter and provide regular yearly maintenance.

I find the total disregard for the HCSA's contribution to the rail line by the "naturalist club" insulting and annoying. We would like to thank Mr. Valentine for his kind comments on our behalf at the naturalist meeting.

This past fall the HCSA invested $10,000 in the restoration of three bridges on the line. These bridges are priceless and were deteriorating from wheeled vehicle traffic chewing the rail lines away. The HCSA fully respects all users of the line and are prepared to step up and put the necessary resources into preserving it - for all, forever. I seriously question the motives of the naturalist group in regard to shared use of the line. As of this writing the naturalist group, who met at the Bonnie View, have never contacted any of our executive regarding their interest in the rail line. We certainly have a wealth of knowledge about the rail line - its history, its future, insurance and liability problems and its necessary upkeep.

The HCSA is wondering just exactly what this group has in store for the line. In the winter the line must be shared with dogsled teams which practice on certain sections. To this end the HCSA has posted signs to warn of the presence of sled dogs. I read nothing about dog sleds in the naturalists plan for shared use. Dog sled racing has become part of Haliburton's winter identity.

While shared use means compromise, tolerance and cooperation on behalf of all parties, the comments regarding snowmobiling on the line lead us to believe the naturalists have a different interpretation of "shared use".

Snowmobilers bring more than $10 million of economic benefit to this county in the winter. Kinmount is often full of trucks and trailers from visiting snowmobilers who unload their snowmobiles and then ride right into Haliburton County. It is not uncommon for more than 1,200 snowmobiles to use the rail line in an eight-hour period on winter weekends. This means thousands of dollars are coming into Haliburton because of the safe, scenic and well-maintained access the rail line provides for snowmobilers. The HCSA and its 2,895 members are proud of their contribution to Haliburton's economy and do this work voluntarily.

Any future plans for the rail line and its shared use are of great interest to the HCSA. We think the naturalists who envision themselves as champions of the preservation of the rail line might benefit from a little research and should be prepared to contribute in a tangible way to on-going use of this unique Haliburton resource.

Maybe the term "shared use" should be clarified for the benefit of all who use the rail line.

Student sickened by vandalism done to his school

Editor:

As a student at Archie Stouffer Elementary School I think it's sickening that certain people vandalized our school and wrecked what we worked so hard for. By selling magazines and doing other activities we help pay for the computers and other stuff. I think these people should pay for what they have done.

Charity hockey

The OPP and Haliburton Fire Department are playing against each other in a charity hockey game with proceeds going to the 4C's Christmas Food Drive. The game is Friday at 7:30p.m. at the Dysart Arena.

Although they were short staffed, the Redmen were more than a match for the Crestwood Mustangs.

Redmen bounce back

HHSS defeats good Crestwood Mustangs squad

by Andy Holloway

Despite being short staffed again, the Haliburton Highlands Redmen had a successful week grabbing five of a possible six points, including a big win over the tough Crestwood Mustangs.

The 7-4 win against the Mustangs is an important one for the Redmen because it shows they can compete against the best in the Kawarthas, even without the Morissette brothers who missed their third game in a row. Also missing for the third straight game were Peter Van Leeuwen and Jackie Morrison. Peter Brohman and Jeff Black returned to the team after serving their suspensions.

Jonathon Bishop was the best Redmen player against the Mustangs, scoring three goals and two assists.

Other scorers for the Redmen were Black, Mike MacKenzie, Andrew McKelvey and Greg Stamp. Picking up assists were Colin Morrison with two and singles to MacKenzie, McKelvey and Mark Stamp. Brohman tended the goal for the Redmen.

The Mustangs had won all three of their games this season before losing to the Redmen who snapped a three game winless streak.

The Redmen continued their good play with a 7-4 win over the TASS-Griffins last Wednesday at home. Unlike the previous home game there were no incidents on the ice or in the stands, perhaps because a police officer stood guard and ensured that no one could sit behind the team's benches. Only six minutes in penalties were called during the entire game.

Despite the lack of on-ice scrumming, the two teams gave a demonstration of skill, with the Redmen overpowering the Griffins throughout the game even if the score was close.

There was no scoring in the first period, but the Redmen came close a number of times only to be denied by Griffins' goalie Brent Halliday. The Griffins, however, broke the deadlock with a goal just eight seconds into the second period. A low slapshot from a sharp angle by Chris Osborne fooled Redmen goalie Peter Brohman and the Griffins were up by one.

The Redmen fought back and

Bantam A's keep on winning

The OMHA Minden Monarchs bantam squad continued its winning ways taking three more games last week.

On December 2, the Monarchs beat the Bobcaygeon Cougars 3-0 on the strength of a well-earned shut-out by Justin Rowden.

The scoring started just as the first period was about to expire, when Dennis Woods converted passes by Jeff Wray and Chris Eskelin to give the Monarchs the only goal they would need to win.

Shortly into the second period, Wray scored the Monarchs second goal with an assist credited to Dave Raback. The Monarchs scored their final goal late in the third period when Darren Mills fired one home with assists recorded by Woods and Fielding.

The next night in Fenelon Falls, the Monarchs crushed the Flyers 9-1 in a clean game that had only four penalties called.

The Flyers ruined Justin Rowden's shut-out early in the third period. But other than that goal it was all Minden.

The Monarchs scored one in the first, that by Ben Ripley with an assist to Jeff Wray. They scored four in the next two periods, however, to blow the game wide open. Dennis Woods scored one goal and added three assists, while Wray and Chris Eskelin each scored twice. Other goal scorers were Dave Raback, Darren Mills and Curtis Fielding. Single assists were given to Mills, Donald Todd, Daniel Howell, Marty Dettman and Sheamus Donnery and two went to Fielding.

Playing their third game in three days did not slow down the Monarchs as they beat Ops 6-1 at the Arena.

The Monarchs started the scoring at 7:23 in the first when Tom Bagshaw scored with an assist from Donald Todd. Darren Mills assisted by Jeff Wray made it 2-0 before Ops scored their only goal late in the first.

In the second period, Curtis Fielding assisted by Dave Raback and Dennis Woods unassisted were the goal scorers.

Two third period goals were scored by Wray, the first one was unassisted while the second one was assisted by Todd and Mills.

Minden has been on a great winning streak and is looking to keep it going all the way to the end.

Frolicking skaters

The Minden Skating Club sent six of its members to the Scugog Frolics Invitational Competition in Lindsay on December 4 and there were some high marks given to them. This event is for beginning skaters up to the early test level skaters. For some of these girls this was their first or second performance in front of judges. Kerri Matysek rated a second in the Preliminary 111 B event while her sister Krista took a second in the 111 C. Third places finishes were awarded to Amanda Barnett in the Pre-Juvenile B event and to Kourtney Matysek in Juvenile A. Jasmine Wilson took a sixth place finish in the Novice B event and Jennifer Orpana finished seventh at the Introductory C level.

Ballantyne grabs 7 points in big Hartwick win over The Times

The Times dropped their fifth straight game with an 11-2 beating at the hands of league leading Hartwick.

This game was never in doubt as Hartwick took a 5-1 lead in the first period and then cruised to six more goals in the second. It was the most lopsided game in Minden Men's League action to date.

John Ballantyne led Hartwick with seven points including three goals. Kim Colliss, Scott Nesbitt and Todd Connelly all had two goals each while Ron May and Jerry Campbell scored one apiece.

Picking up assists for Hartwick were Connelly with four, Nesbitt with three, and Colliss, May, Jay Horsley, Bern Berry and Andy Scholing with singles.

The Times received goals from Lawrence Loughheed and Doug Schell. Derek Barnett picked up the only assists, that one on Loughheed's goal in the first period.

The game's outcome was important to the standings because in the night's second match Westside Jug City upset KDD 10-3. Westside moved out of the basement with the win and KDD slipped into third place after being tied at the top the week before.

This game was also clinched in the first period as Westside took a 7-0 lead. They increased that lead to 9-0 before KDD made the score a little more respectable by scoring three of the last four goals.

Leading the way for Westside was Gary Nelson who scored twice and added four assists. Tom Haley grabbed a hat trick and added an assist for a big four point night. Dave Pettes and Eldon Bull each scored a pair while Daryl Ward added one more.

On the assists' side of the scoreboard Greg Metcalfe had three while Dwayne Warburton, Paul Mayo, Ward and Bull all added two.

Scoring for KDD were Scott Danilko with a pair and Corey Walker. Picking up assists on Walker's goal were Jeff Howe and Bill Moffatt. Both of Danilko's tallies were unassisted.

At least the final game of the night provided some suspense as Home Hardware scored four times in the second period to beat Sid Stamp 6-3.

In the first period each team scored twice.

The Hardy boys jumped out front when Boomer Stamp scored the first of his two goals on the night, assisted by Doug Allison and Brian Shaw. Craig Crowe tied it up for the Stampers on a goal assisted by Ben Manuge.

Home Hardware again went ahead on a goal by Chris Mills, assisted by Stamp, but the Stampers tied it up on a goal by Manuge, assisted by Crowe.

In the second period the Hardy lads scored four straight goals to take command of the game. Allison scored twice while Trini Elias and Stamp added one each. Picking up assists on the goals were Stamp with two, Shaw and Allison. Stamp ended the night with five points while Allison recorded four points.

The Stampers finally cracked Home Hardware's goalie Kevin Smith late in the second period on a goal by Glen Hall, assisted by Crowe and Manuge. Both Manuge and Crowe had a goal and two assists.

The win allowed Home Hardware to keep pace with Hartwick atop the league. The Stampers dropped into a tie with Westside for fourth spot with a record of one win, four losses and one tie.

Bantam B Monarchs win 10th in a row

The Minden Monarchs Bantam B squad is still streaking having won two recent games to improve their unbeaten string to 10 games.

The boys headed off to Sutton where they won again, beating Sutton 4-1. The boys' strong passing plays are a credit to their coaches who have stressed this aspect all year.

In the first period Minden scored two goals, one by Sean Irvine and the other by Jason Kasepchuck. Ian Clements assisted on both goals.

Adam Carpenter scored the team's third goal in the third period after being set up by George Godfrey. Clements then added an insurance goal to end the game.

On December 4 the bantam's 10th win in a row came against Cannington as they beat the Kings 6-2.

Cannington scored first, but Minden struck back quickly. Paul Murray, assisted by Travis Leonard tied the game up for Minden. Then Ian Clements scored two goals - the first assisted by Andy Madill and the second by Curtis Barry.

Minden's fourth goal was scored by Sean Irvine assisted by Leonard. Ian Clements completed a hat trick in the third period and then added another one for good measure. The goals were assisted by Adam Carpenter and Nathan Stephenson.

Jamie Henderson worked hard on the wing while strong defence play by Matthew Hamilton and Gavin Gartshore and good goaltending by Shane Flood helped win both of these games. The next home game for the Bantam B's is this Saturday at 6 p.m.

Redmen take five of six points scored three goals in just over a minute to take the lead. Jackie Morrison made some great moves before setting up Chris Greenfield with an easy tap-in to tie the score at 10:54. Curtis Bain picked up an assist on the play as well.

Just 24 seconds later, Jonathon Bishop won a draw deep in the Griffins end and passed it back to Andy Billings whose wobbly slapshot somehow managed to elude the Griffins' goalie. Halliday may have been partially screened on the goal. The next goal, coming 55 seconds later, was a 35 foot blast by Bishop that overpowered Halliday. Mike MacKenzie and Billings picked up assists.

The Griffins scored the next two goals. Mike Wilson deked past Brohman to cut the Redmen lead to one. And then Kevin Jackman scored on a weak shot that fooled Brohman.

The Redmen regained the lead before the end of the period when Jeff Black's slap shot was deflected by Jackie Morrison into the net.

In the third period the Redmen added three more goals including two by Bill Bradley who was moved up to the forward line from the defence. Mark Stamp and Greg Stamp assisted on both goals which were scored within the space of 23 seconds. Colin Morrison scored the final goal of the game with 10 seconds left. MacKenzie picked up an assist on the play.

On December 3, the Redmen played with just 10 players and were held to a 2-2 tie by the I.E. Weldon Wildcats.

Dennis Woods scored a late third period goal to give the Redmen the tie. Woods also scored the Redmen's other goal, that one in the first period. The Wildcats scored one in the first and another in the second to take a lead going into the third. Justin Rowden played in goal for the Redmen and Colin Morrison played his first game for the Redmen. Picking up assists on Woods' goals were Mike Billings on both and Mike Mackenzie on the second.

The Redmen's next home game is against the division leading Fenelon Falls Falcons this Wednesday.

The Redmen also play the Falcons the day before in Fenelon Falls.

Treasure trove for children

A new store featuring children's wear and toys, Anthony & Melissa's Treasure Chest, opened up in the Valu-Mart Mall on December 1. Operator Jacqueline Kates says the store was named after her children. The store continues a recent string of business movements in and around the Minden area indicating the economy might be getting ready to turn around.

Nordic Trails group needs volunteers

Volunteers. The very backbone of a non-profit organization. Like many other organizations in the community, Haliburton Nordic Trails finds itself long on jobs and short on people to do them.

The obvious solution would be to cut down on the services we offer or the amount of trails we groom. As obvious as that solution may be, it is equally obvious that none of our ski club members, tourist operators or tourists would be happy to see this very unique ski system succumb to that.

No, the answer is to try and enlist as many skiers, business people and interested persons as possible to lend us their various skills and, more importantly, their time. Even by donating a few hours a week you'll be helping to alleviate some of the backlog that has been loaded on our dedicated but small core of volunteers.

If you are interested in trail patrolling, grooming or maintenance, marketing and promotions, trail marshalling or any other ski-related activity, please call our trails office at 457-1640.

George Hamilton named Stanhope citizen of the year

by Andy Holloway

For his unselfish devotion to others George Hamilton was named Stanhope's citizen of the year for 1993.

Hamilton was presented with the honour at the annual Stanhope Township staff Christmas party on December 4, a party he wasn't even going to attend until township clerk Gerald Bain talked him into going one more time. The award took Hamilton completely by surprise, but he was delighted with the honour.

Break-in string

Three Haliburton County businesses were broken into last Tuesday evening or early Wednesday morning. The crimes netted thieves $1,150.

The culprit pried open a rear window at the Haliburton Post Office and once inside made an unsuccessful attempt at trying to break into the safe. The person left without taking anything.

A similar break-in occurred at Perfect Prints in Haliburton and at General Lee's in Minden except the culprit made off with a total of $1,150. The large chunk of the money was from General Lee's where the person stole $1,000.

Minden OPP say the investigation into all three break-ins is continuing and feel the break-ins are related.

"I'm really pleased, naturally. There are a lot of people who do things for the township so there's a lot of potential there and I didn't even think I was a candidate," said Hamilton last Friday.

Hamilton, who is 65-years-young, has done a number of things for the township and its residents over the eight years that he has lived there and he still has a full plate of activities he takes on every year.

He says the township is a good community to live in and it encourages people to get involved and help make the township a better place to live.

One of the key reasons he was honoured is because he has a "good neighbor" attitude.

He drives neighbors to medical appointments, airports for holidays and many other places. Every year he volunteers to file tax returns for seniors and does so for no pay. This is much harder than it seems because he must attend workshops to learn new tax legislation every year.

But Hamilton has also been a benefit to the community as a whole. He has planned and organized recreation bingos for many years, helped out during Stanhope Fun Days, was a member of the Staunworth Non-Profit Housing Corporation until very recently and is a member of the seniors' social club.

The money that was collected during the time Hamilton helped out with bingo was in the neighborhood of $25,000. It was used to promote other municipal recreational activities and encourage

For all those reasons and more Hamilton is a true representative of the plaque's inscription: Awarded to the

Minden Council Notes

Councillors doubt county recycling plan for fine waste paper

by Andy Holloway

The following brief items were discussed at Minden Council last Thursday.

Recycling part one

The county's fine paper recycling proposal has caused confusion among municipal councils and a lot of questions. The county needs at least five depots to store the paper before the proposal can fly. The depots would be open to anyone in the county. County planner Mark Stagg said the plan is to offer free pick-up service on the basis that the revenue from the end market would pay the contractor. But councillor Jeanne Anthon was not so sure there would be an end market and said she would like to see proof before proceeding.

Reeve Bern Berry also had doubts about the proposal and the fact that the plan is not supposed to cost the township any money. "I question his figures, personally. I don't think it can be done without a cost," said Berry who noted that the cost of recycling in Minden has been going up.

Council also had doubts about the 400 tonnes of waste fine paper that Stagg said is generated in the county. It has forwarded a list of questions to the county for more explanation.

Earlier in the week Stanhope council said a fine paper recycling depot in Stanhope would not be effective as there are few businesses who consume a lot of paper.

Recycling part two

The proof was in the pudding for Bern Berry's appraisal that recycling costs are continually rising. Muskoka

Containerized Services, the company which hauls away bottles, cans and newspapers from the Minden dumps, has informed the township that its prices will probably rise when government subsidies end in April, 1994.

"I wonder if the province is losing interest in recycling because of the dollar," asked Berry.

But Jeanne Anthon pointed out that it was always the province's intention to eliminate subsidies once recycling programs started. Anthon said she would like to see a business in this county start up a recycling operation similar to MCS so that the profits of such a business would remain in the county.

The King's Highway

The Minden bypass along Highway 35 has been designated as the King's Highway and is no longer a controlled access highway.

The end result will mean very little as roads supervisor Clayton Cameron said there were only two places where a driveway could be created along that stretch of the highway anyway.

The bypass runs from Westside Jug City to the Highway 118 turn off to Haliburton.

Snow banking

The township will provide the Kinsmen with plenty of snow for the annual ice car races that start up in mid-January. Council approved a request that the Road's Department take snow up to the Minden Fairgrounds and dump it. The Kinsmen will then use the snow to create banks along its race car track to prevent cars from flying off the track.

New quarry proposed for Boshkung Lake

by Andy Holloway

An Orillia company wants to create a quarry on Boshkung Lake, but Stanhope council is holding its cards near to its chest before making a decision.

Council delayed making any decisions or comments on the proposal by Central Ontario Natural Stone until it receives more information on the exact site of the quarry and how it will affect neighboring properties. The quarry is on Concession 2, Lot 3 on Boshkung Lake.

"I think we should get more information before we get involved. There certainly will be a lot of blasting done," said councillor Murray Daniels.

Reeve Fred Gardner echoed Daniels' comments and said the details provided so far were sketchy.

"Before we make any comments I would like to know exactly where the quarry is and I'd like to see the site myself," said Gardner.

The company was seeking comments from council on their proposal which would require a zoning change before they go to the expense of getting a site plan. The property in question is on Crown land and the company is seeking a 25 year lease.

In a letter to the township, President John Pilger stated that the area would benefit from the possibility of employment for local residents and that the quarry could supply local contractors and other building related businesses.

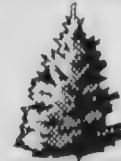

The company would operate the quarry from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday to Friday and there would be rock drilling and blasting where necessary. Most of the rock would be cut by hand and so the volume of stones removed from the site would be low. This would keep traffic down on Boshkung Lake Road, the planned entrance and exit.

Councillor Jim Hicks said there would probably be a lot of resistance from cottagers and residents on the lake who would object to the noise.

WOMAN ABUSE & ALCOHOL The True Facts

Myth: Alcohol causes men to assault their female partners.

Fact: Alcohol can make it easier for a man to be violent, but the real cause of women abuse is the batterer's desire for power and control over his female partner. Batterers often use alcohol as an excuse to avoid taking responsibility for their violent behaviour.

Conclusion: Drinking alcohol does not cause women abuse.

Although drinking alcohol prior to violence does occur in 25 - 50% of cases of women abuse (depending on the study), this also means that 50 - 75% of the cases of violence against women do not involve alcohol. Therefore, most incidents of women abuse do not involve alcohol and are not caused by alcohol.

The cause of women abuse is the batterer's desire of power and control over their female partner.

Youth crashes borrowed van

A youth will face several charges after fleeing police and crashing a van into a hydro pole.

The incident occurred on Sunday, Nov. 28 at about 1:05 a.m. in Kinmount. OPP officers stopped at Rokeby Lumber to check on a white van parked in the lot. Once the police car stopped, the van started up and struck the rear of the police car causing minor damage. The van continued out of the lot and headed south on Highway 121 with police in pursuit.

Before police could catch up with the van, the driver attempted a turn onto Cluxton Street at the south end of Kinmount where it left the road and hit a hydro pole. The van rode up a hydro guide wire which broke and let the van fall onto a stone wall.

The youth was treated for minor injuries at the Minden Hospital. The van was destroyed.

In accordance with the young offenders act, the driver of the van cannot be identified. The youth is charged with taking a vehicle without the owner's consent, careless driving, failing to stop for police and driving without a licence.

Township to gain control of Panoramic Park

by Andy Holloway

Minden is one step closer to taking control of Panorama Park from the province despite the usual government red tape.

Council had asked the Ministry of Transportation if it could take control of Panoramic Park (a.k.a. Pike's Peak) which overlooks Minden. But it turned out that the MTO does not own the lands, and the park is actually owned by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The MTO, however, has rights to use the park which it must relinquish before the MNR can sell the land to the township. The township did place conditions on the transfer of the park saying it wanted the road paved, which has been done, and a survey of the property which has not been completed. The Postcard Pretty: Minden may soon take ownership of the lofty park which overlooks the village. The scene shown above is taken from a 20 year old postcard.

MTO hopes to complete the survey by next spring so the township can take control before the start of the tourist season.

"We would like to have control of Panoramic Park so we can beautify it and let more people use it," said Reeve Bern Berry.

Once the MTO gives up its right to use the park the MNR can then proceed to sell the park to the township for a nominal fee of $2.

Festive RIDE program is now in operation

Two people were charged in the first week of the Minden OPP's RIDE program in which 353 vehicles were checked.

One person was given a 12-hour suspension and another was charged with impaired driving. In total, police checked 353 vehicles in the first week of the Festive RIDE program, which is in place until January 1.

The program, which has proven to be an effective deterrent to drunk driving, has been in operation since 1987. In the past four years alone, the OPP has checked more than 1.2 million vehicles during these festive campaigns, issued more than 3,700 12-hour licence suspension and laid more the 1,600 alcohol-related charges.

Drivers should be aware that penalties have increased over the years. For the first offence, the penalty is a minimum of $300 and a one-year suspension. A second offence results in a minimum of 14 days in jail and a two-year suspension. After that, it's a minimum of 90 days in jail and a three-years suspension.

Permit numbers down, value up in Stanhope township for 1993

by Andy Holloway

The following brief items were discussed at Stanhope Council last Wednesday.

Building stats

The number of building permits granted by the township dropped from 92 in 1992 to 82 this year, but the value represented by those permits increased by almost $700,000. Bylaw Officer Ray Moore attributed the conflicting statistics to the fact people are building "bigger and better" buildings, but fewer of them. He said there are three large homes currently undergoing construction now in the township. The number of dwellings and cottages built in Stanhope last year dropped, but the number of garages and additions increased. Only four cottages were built in the township, down from 11 the year before. The total value of all the permits issued this year is $3.1 million.

Slow speeding

A proposed speed limit of 10 kilometres per hour on Kennis River received the go ahead from council, but it will still take up to three years for the limit to receive final government approvals and be enacted. The speed limit was requested by a large majority of property owners on the river as a result of the increasing improper use of Seadoos.

The township gave 30 days public notice and received no complaints and council approved the speed limit which will be in effect from Halls Lake to the bridge.

Briefly

Stanhope Council Notes

Snowmobile rerouting

Snowmobilers should be aware that the trails through the Halls Lake dump site and Stanhope gravel pit will no longer be used by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association. Reeve Fred Gardner said the HCSA has agreed to move their trails.

"It's a major trail and it's not a slightly one," said Gardner. "It runs along the face of the garbage and is not a nice thing to show tourists who use the trail."

Stanhope granted the HCSA $1,000 and some fill this year to help the organization improve trails in the township. The HCSA responded by using a local contractor. The township and the HCSA have also set up an agreement whereby snowmobilers are insured under the HCSA's liability policy while travelling through Stanhope.

Moral support

SIRCH's emergency house for abused women received moral support from council, but little else. The agency had written requesting support and a possible site for the home that was close to all services and facilities. Clerk Gerald Bain noted that since Stanhope does not have sewage or water facilities it would not make sense for SIRCH to locate the home in the township. Council did, however, give their support by way of a resolution.

Can't help Minden hospital, Tories say

by Andy Holloway

All three major provincial parties have offered their services to Victoria-Haliburton because the area no longer has direct representation, but Minden council has found the offer is really just smoke and mirrors.

Council sent a letter to Allan McLean, MP for Simcoe East, whose office is supposed to help area residents and councils who have a provincial concern.

McLean quickly replied to the letter, but offered very little. His letter stated that the NDP "ultimately hold the fate of Ontario's health care system in their hands" and there was no offer to help pursue the matter on behalf of council.

Similar letters were sent to the NDP and the Liberals with only a phone call in response.

Reeve Bern Berry said he was "very disappointed" with the contents of the letter and asked council whether it should try again. Council did not immediately act on the suggestion.

The township also received overwhelming support from area service groups and other townships. The Minden Legion, Kinette Club, Rotary Club, Lutterworth Council, Somerville Council, and Snowdon Council all gave their support to the Minden Hospital and council's pursuit to keep the hospital here.

All sled dogs are not created equal

When the spectators lining Minden's main street for the annual sled-dog derby watch the four- and eight-dog teams leap out of the starting chute or charge up to the finish line, they probably think the dogs all look pretty much the same. But the fine eye of the experienced musher can spot the characteristics that led to this particular dog being run at the front of the team and another one at the back.

The various jobs on a dog team are quite different and it can make a great deal of difference to a team's success whether the musher is experienced enough to know in which position each dog should run.

The position of most obvious importance is the lead dog. Or rather, lead dogs. Val Loughheed, Race Governor of the Minden Techni-cal Challenge, explains that the practice of running with a single lead dog out front was changed a number of years ago.

"All the pressure was on that one dog," she says, "and it was just too much for them to handle. So now everybody runs their teams harnessed in pairs, with two dogs in the front position."

Lead dogs have a special relationship with their musher and do for the team just what their name suggests: provide leadership. They are independent but extremely responsive to the musher's commands. "A lead dog is always looking back at you," Loughheed says, "always checking in with you, concentrating on you, connected to you by your voice."

Lead dogs must have intelligence and courage in order to lead the team where the musher wants it to go — up that hill, around that corner, past that snowmobile. They also have to be the 'driver', always wanting to go faster.

The special characteristics that make for a good lead dog are evident from the beginning. "You can see that kind of responsiveness from the time they're puppies," Loughheed says. "To train new lead dogs, youngsters with those particular qualities are often paired with experienced lead dogs. That gives a combination of energy and experience at the front of the team."

On an eight-dog team, the pair behind the lead dogs are called the point dogs. They have almost the same characteristics as the leaders but are content to run behind other dogs, which the leaders usually are not. From time to time, though, to give the leaders' heads a rest and relieve the pressure they're under, mushers put their leaders in point position for a race.

Behind the point dogs are the team dogs. They are the workers — 'nine-to-five dogs' whose only job is to pull. Their greatest characteristics are strength and steadiness. "You only notice them when they're not doing their job," says Loughheed.

The pair behind the team dogs and just in front of the sled are called the wheel dogs. They're a little bigger and a little stronger than any of the other dogs on the team because they bear the weight of the sled. "They can coast for most of the race," Loughheed explains, "but you need them to respond when you call on them, when you're going up a hill or when you're coming up to the finish line and everybody else is tired. That's when the weight of the sled becomes an issue. They also have to be level-headed, rather than spectacular, because they have to put up with the sled bouncing around and not be thrown by that."

As the mushers train their teams this fall for the coming season, they run their dogs in all positions to find out which one suits each animal. The mushers who know their dogs best, and make the best decisions about who goes where, stand the best chance of taking home a substantial part of the $25,100 purse provided by race sponsor, Martin Pet Foods, this January in Minden.

To celebrate the 10th anniversary edition of the Minden Techni-cal Challenge, we are pleased to offer the third in a series of five articles that offer our readers insight into the sport of sled-dog racing. This year's running of the Minden Techni-cal Challenge will be held on January 22 and 23.

All members of the team have a different job and must know what is expected of them during the race otherwise the team can not live up to its abilities.

"You only notice them when they're not doing their job"

County should haggle for Toronto's garbage

"Wanted: Municipality willing to take 40 million tonnes of solid waste from Toronto. Applicants are invited to express their interest in becoming a willing host by calling Metropolitan Toronto Works Department."

Not an exact copy of what will soon be appearing in newspaper advertisements across the province, but close enough.

Yep, Toronto wants to get rid of its garbage by giving it to someone else. Of course, it will offer many benefits to entice municipalities who may be hemming and hawing.

Already some areas have expressed an interest in Toronto's garbage, and I don't mean the Argonauts. Kirkland Lake wants to take the garbage and put it down an old mine giving new meaning to the phrase "getting the shaft."

Other areas are soon to follow because of the benefits. A news release states Toronto may:

- * offer royalty payments and infrastructure improvements
- * assist in developing local waste reduction, reuse and recycling programs
- * provide compensation such as free disposal
- * provide other forms of compensation

In addition, the municipality will get a lot of economic development and employment benefits from the landfill and related operations.

Who would have thought garbage was such a useful thing to create? And such an economic boost to the selected area. Imagine the benefit to an area that has, say, 30 per cent unemployment, no industry to speak of other than tourism, and acres and acres of unused land sitting idly by waiting for the right project.

One such area, of course, is Haliburton County.

We Haliburtonians should be getting off our duffs and onto this one.

Oh sure, there are some problems associated with garbage. It stinks and is an unsightly mess and is, well, garbage. But county politicians should be urged to apply for it anyway.

As for the unsightly effect of having 40 million tonnes of waste dumped in one's backyard, that could be overcome with a little native cunning and creative salesmanship.

How about, "See the animals in their unnatural habitat tours." Tourists would flock from miles around to see a beautiful bear rooting for tasty treasures among the plastic bag avalanche from Toronto.

The money from this eco-tourism would be astronomical. Who wouldn't pay big bucks to see what happens to their garbage?

There are other possibilities as well.

The pile could be turned into a big ski hill. It may

Rantin' n' Ravin'

by Andy Holloway

be a little difficult to maintain the snow covering as the hill decomposes, but night skiing could be promoted as particularly romantic under the flickering orange of the methane gas flares.

Or how about turning it into parkland, like they did with the slag heap in Sudbury.

Or better still, a 570 acre golf course. Sure, the ball may get sticky when sink you the big putt and the sand traps might be more traps than sand, but that's a small price to pay for progress.

One potential spin-off not to be overlooked would be the increase in injuries, cuts, scrapes, intestinal disorders, breathing problems among others that would likely result with the importation of the garbage. The increased incidents would prove once and for all to the powers that be that our hospitals are needed.

Even if the people of Haliburton County did not want the garbage, it would be beneficial to at least begin the application process. Imagine the bonding of people across the county in their fight to keep Toronto's garbage in Toronto.

Uniting as one we could create a committee, HAG - Haliburtonians Against Garbage. No longer would Minden and Haliburton feud. We would be HAGs together, finding a common cause that unites us....that is unless one part of the county actually thinks it is a good idea.

Finding the best Christmas tree

The winter issue of the Canadian Standards Association "CSA & The Consumer" offers some excellent tips to use when purchasing a tree for Christmas. First and foremost is to think fresh, green and moist when buying and caring for a natural tree.

Test the tree for freshness by tapping the base on the ground or pulling lightly on a limb. If many needles fall off or can be easily pulled off, the tree is too dry. Before setting up the tree, trim two inches off the stem diagonally so it can absorb water. Mount the tree securely in a large reservoir stand and maintain the water level above the diagonal cut.

CSA suggests that the following formula be used to determine the number of lights needed to create a full effect on your tree: Height of tree (in feet) multiplied by the width of the tree and multiplied by three. For example a six foot high tree that is four feet wide would require $(6 \times 4 \times 3 = 72)$ 72 lights.

More lights are needed if the mini-lights are used.

Copies of the winter issue of the CSA guide are available free at your nearest Information Centre.

Home holds first ever memorial

This morning looks very much as though Christmas will soon be here.

Saturday we had lovely piano music played by Glenna Beckman. Thank you Glenna, it is appreciated very much.

Sunday afternoon Estella Burch read for us - Estella's reading is truly appreciated. In the evening Reverend John Burgess had the chapel service. Thank you John and I'm sorry I can't remember who played the organ, but we certainly thank you.

The Hyland Crest Auxiliary's Meeting was held on Monday and there was a large number of members present. As usual they were planning things for our benefit and enjoyment.

Tuesday, instead of the regular chapel service, a memorial service was in memory of two residents who had passed away - Garnet Ash and Robert Mitchell. Reverend Peter Walford-Davis led the service and Robert Mitchell's granddaughter gave the eulogy in honour of her grandfather. This is the first memorial service we have had at Hyland Crest.

I am sure everyone involved felt it was something we have needed for a long time and hope it continues.

In the afternoon we made Christmas decorations aided by Dottie Muirhead. That evening Corinne Arsenault helped a few residents play cards. Thank you Corinne and Dottie. It is people like you who help us pass the time much happier.

Wednesday was a quiet day, but in the evening the Grandfathers - Bill Payne, Eldon Deacon, and Don White - came to play music in the Trillium Lounge. Thank you Bill, Eldon and Don for a happy evening.

The Tea Party on Thursday was

by Winnifred Barnum provided by the Lydia Group of the United Church Women - Elva Deacon, Mabel Deacon, Jean Cox, Bea Berry and Betty Hershey. Pat Scott made sure so many who could come got to the auditorium. Jean Cox accompanied our tea with pleasant piano music. The ladies served a delicious tea and all these ladies are sincerely appreciated.

Leslie Schell (Uncle Dudley) and Sid Cooper were the entertainers for Happy Hour on Friday with Doris at the piano. The residents really enjoy this music and wish to thank them very much.

The activity department is greatly in need of volunteers to help in any capacity. If you have a little time (days or evenings) please get in touch with Doris Robertson-Alton at 286-2140.

Australian Aborigines gaining new respect

In many parts of the world, indigenous people struggling to protect their land are being supported by environmental groups who recognize the importance of traditional attitudes to Mother Earth.

Appropriately, in the Year of Indigenous People, the future of Aborigines has been the news story of the year in Australia. That's because of a High Court decision on a claim to traditional lands by Eddie Mabo and four other Aborigines.

In 1992, 10 years after Mabo vs. Queensland was initiated, the High Court acknowledged that the original inhabitants of Australia had a long connection with the land which had not been extinguished by the arrival of Europeans.

Human habitation of this unique continent goes back at least 90,000 years. When Europeans arrived here just over two centuries ago, the land was fully occupied by dozens of different tribes of people who were far better nourished than the average Londoner of the time.

Yet Aborigines were listed under "flora and fauna" of Australia until the 1960s. The continent was regarded as "terra nullius" - an empty land devoid of civilized people - and simply taken by proclamation.

After the Mabo case was launched, Queensland passed the Coast Islands Declaratory Act in an attempt to extinguish all aboriginal rights, interests and claims without compensation. Three years later, in 1988, the High Court ruled that it was contrary to the Racial Discrimination Act of 1975 and struck down the Islands Act.

Many Australians now fear that Aborigines will lay claim to most of the country, that property could be lost and that the cost of compensation will be immense. Aborigines, on the other hand, hope Mabo will open up questions of sovereignty, self-determination and compensation.

Prime Minister Paul Keating has made a commitment to act on the Mabo decision. He says he will enact legislation to recognize and protect native title, establish a tribunal and court process for determining and processing native land claims and ensure that land used for farming, mining, tourism, and so on is also protected. He has broad support among Australians in spite of their fears.

On November 15, Keating made a powerful plea for all-party support. He acknowledged that Aborigines were "shunted aside, often with appalling brutality" by early settlers. "Land had nourished indigenous people spiritually as well as materially...yet it is a remarkable fact about Australia that this oldest continuous civilization on earth has until now been denied

by David Suzuki

by Australian law. Much of the despair and degradation, conflict and disease, and many of the problems which Aboriginal Australians face today are a consequence of this disposition."

Keating appealed for justice: "To deny the High Court decision, to deny native title in Australian common law would deny justice: for it would deny indigenous Australian rights to land enjoyed by other Australians. This generation can not be held responsible for the cruelty of previous generations. But to ignore Mabo would be a final cruelty and we would be held responsible by the world and future generations."

"How could we say that we stand for a fair go if we were to wipe away title to land which has lasted through thousands of years of occupation of the continent and 200 years of European settlement? How could we explain to Australian Aborigines? How could we explain it to the world?"

On November 18, John Hewson, leader of the opposition coalition, denied Keating the all-party support he hoped for. In a petty speech he appealed to the meanest emotions, suggesting the proposed legislation "asks ordinary Australians to sign off on a blank cheque" and will cost billions of dollars and vast tracts of land.

Racism is not easily excised, but like Canada, Australia has only recently become a rich multi-ethnic society, and is belatedly seeking justice for its first citizens oil painting classes with John Lennard will begin in January at the Minden Legion courtesy of the Seniors Club.

Don't forget the Christmas Carols at the Wee Kirk on Friday December 17 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. A choir will be there to lead the singing so come on out and enjoy.

Residents of The Terrace and The Court were delighted when people from the Minden Bible Church went through the halls singing Christmas Carols.

Called in - Coby Seniors New Year's Eve Dance on Saturday, December 31 at 9 p.m. For information call 454-1102.

BIRTHS

VASEY: Susie and Ted are proud to announce the birth of their son

on November 9, 1993 - a brother for Mitchell.

PERSONAL

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY, HEALTHY & PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR to our relatives, friends and neighbours. From, Edward and Rhoda McKelvey.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone who has been so kind to me since I have been ill. Special thanks for transportation to and from Mt. Sinai Hospital, fruit baskets, centrepiece, food, phone calls, cards and prayers. It is so nice to know you care. Jean Marsh.

A note of thanks for all the prayers and well wishes for Christopher during his recent stay at Sick Kid's Hospital. His surgery went very well and he is at home recovering nicely. A special thanks to Grandma Elvean and Uncle Jerry for watching Connor while we were away. Thanks so much again. Collin & Leigh McKelvey.

We wish to thank family, friends and neighbours for their support during the loss of a dear husband, father, grandfather and brother, Ernest Anderson. A special thank you to the ambulance drivers and emergency staff at Ross Memorial Hospital, Gordon Monk and staff, Rev. Peter Walford-Davis whose prayers and guidance gave comfort to us all. Special thanks to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Kinmount Legion for the use of the hall and delicious lunch served. God Bless all of you. Vivian Anderson and Family.

AT REST

ANDERSON, Ernest

Entered into rest suddenly on Saturday, December 4, 1993 at Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay in his 83rd year. Beloved husband of Vivian Swinson. Dear father of Marjorie (Mrs Ray Bradimore) of Cobocok, Raymond of Minden, June (Mrs Randy Grozelle) of Kinmount, Gary of Lindsay, Linda Harrison of Lindsay, Lawrence of Minden and Dale (Mrs Brian Monaghan) of Whitehorse, Y.T. Predeceased by daughter Nila Swanton 1979, Gregory 1975 and infant Lloyd. Lovingly remembered by 31 grandchildren and 55 great grandchildren and 1 great great grandchild, predeceased by two grandchildren. Brother of Lyle Anderson of Kinmount and predeceased by Roy, Russell, Lawrence and Gertie.

Rested at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, 127 Main Street, Minden on Monday. Funeral service was held in the chapel on Tuesday, December 7 at 2 p.m. Interment Kinmount Cemetery. Memorial donations to the Salvation Army or the charity of your choice would be appreciated.
